E Delhi transporter shot at by two early morning intruders

Two unidentified assailants barged into the east Delhi house of a 57-year-old former Food Corporation of India (FCI) official and transporter on Monday morning and fired at him from a close range in front of his wife and son. A bullet hit him on the jaw. The incident took place around 7.15am at the victim's Dilshad Garden house in M Pocket.

The victim — Vijay Kumar Malhotra — was rushed to Guru Tegh Bahadur Hospital after a bullet hit his jaws. Doctors at the hospital said though the victim was stable he was not completely out of danger.

According to Shalini Malhotra, wife of the victim, two attackers barged into the house after Malhotra answered the calling bell. The two men barged inside and asked for their 'uncle'. When my husband told them that he was the 'uncle', the accused fired at him twice and fled from the spot. One of the bullets hit him on the jaw.

Family held hostage in Gzb house, Rs 5L looted

A couple of days after a dacoity by armed robbers in an East of Kailash residence in Delhi, a similar incident was reported from the D block of Lal Bagh in Ghaziabad. According to Loni police station, the incident was reported around 4am on Monday. A case of dacoity has been registered and the police is investigating the case.

The accused broke open the grill of the drawing room and climbed inside. As they made their way to the bedroom, Dilip woke up from his sleep and tried to grapple with the robbers. However, the duo overpowered him and one of them opened the main door to let in six others.

Taxi with Japanese exec robbed at gunpoint, one nabbed

Barely 10 days after a cat-and-mouse chase involving cops and criminals that resulted in the death of one policeman and injury to another, another drama involving police and carjackers took place on the Gurgaon-Delhi expressway on Sunday night. Three men in a maxicab overtook a Mahindra Logan radio taxi carrying a Japanese executive, forcing the vehicle to stop and robbed it at gunpoint.

The incident took place around 8.30pm. After landing at IGI Airport, Nozomu Nakamura, general manager of a multi-national company who had come on a business trip hired the taxi. He was accompanied by his colleague S K Mohanty, an architect.

After forcing the taxi to stop, the carjackers flashed a gun and forced the driver and the two passengers out. When they resisted, the robbers beat them up. Then two of the robbers got into the Logan and sped away. The driver called a PCR and Police alerted their staff. Initially, the carjackers went towards Jaipur but sensing police on their heels they took an U-turn at South City Chowk towards Delhi. They again took a U-turn at Shankar Chowk.

On reaching IFFCO Chowk, they hit a Maruti van and the impact was so great that the van turned turtle. All the occupants of the Maruti van were lucky and received only minor injuries. Meanwhile, a PCR on patrol nearby intercepted the Logan and managed to nab one of the criminals while the other escaped.

Pirated DVDs seized at airport

The Airport police, along with the appointed watchdog, AA Khan & Associates, on Saturday seized a consignment containing over 3,525 high-end pirated DVDs, worth Rs3.52 lakh, at the domestic airport.

According to the police, the shipment was coming to the city from Bangladesh, via Kolkata. It contained discs of movies such as 'SAW VI', 'Wrington 3' and 'Law Abiding Citizens', which haven't been released in India so far. Babloo Kumar, Rajesh Gala and one Sirjee have been booked in this connection, and a manhunt has been launched to nab the trio.

Police thwart demonstrations at NIMS

In sharp contrast to the full-throated demonstrations witnessed during Telangana Rashtra Samiti (TRS) president K. Chandrasekhar Rao's fast at the Nizam's Institute of Medical Sciences (NIMS) ten days ago, an uneasy silence prevailed in the hospital after Congress MP Lagadapati Rajagopal got admitted on Monday afternoon.

The police fortified the security at the hospital with elite forces, including the Rapid Action Force (RAF), Quick Response Team and crack commandos, at the entrance as well as the main block which kept at bay demonstrators protesting against Mr. Rajagopal taking treatment. Except for a group of Telangana supporters who managed to enter the hospital much before the police threw the security cordon around the hospital, none of the demonstrators could enter the premises.

All of them were bundled into vans and shifted before they created a scene.

The police also acted swiftly to pick up demonstrators outside the gates when they started gathering as news spread about Mr. Rajagopal's admission.

Security at Jewish centres in city tightened again

The Pune police have again tightened security at Chabad House in Koregaon Park and at the Ohel David Synagogue (Lal Deval) in Pune Camp, following fresh inputs from central intelligence agencies that the Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) may target them.

The two places had been provided with security for over two months, but withdrew it about 10 days ago, saying that threat perception did not exist anymore.

Senior police inspector Suhas Nadgouda of the Bund Garden police station, on Monday said that 15 armed policemen headed by a sub-inspector have been directed to maintain round-the-clock vigil at both the places.

According to the police, following a tip-off by intelligence agencies that the LeT may try to target the two Jewish centres any moment, city police commissioner Satya Pal Singh ordered tight security there.

Seized explosives were for Maoists

The huge caches of explosives, seized by Bihar police from different parts of the state and Jharkhand during the past few days, were mostly pushed into the state from Avadi in Pune and Srikakulam in Andhra Pradesh.

This was disclosed to interrogators by the four persons who were nabbed in Rohtas following seizure of a large quantity of ammonium nitrate. Though Bihar police are yet to get to the bottom of the case, they are now convinced that the explosives were to be supplied to Maoists.

Over one lakh kg of ammonium nitrate was recovered from Patna, Gaya, Rohtas, and Bokaro (Jharkhand) following raids which started on November 7, 2009.

Those arrested initially tried to hoodwink the cops by maintaining that the chemical was meant for use as fertiliser.

City sees 5 swine flu deaths; Death toll in state reaches 71

Five swine flu deaths were reported in the city on Monday, taking the death toll in the state to 71. The deaths have set alarm bells ringing in the state health department.

In December alone, Gujarat has seen 20 swine flu deaths already. Of the 71 deaths, 67 persons from Gujarat have died of the H1N1 virus while four were residents of Rajasthan, who had come for treatment.

Free screening for H1N1 on weekends

In wake of the growing number of cases and deaths related to H1N1, the developers of swine flu isolation surveillance systems (SIFSS) have decided to scan students in municipal schools and people free of charge at public areas every Saturday and Sunday.

Youths clash with cops for removal of CRPF picket

Clashes between groups of youth and the police yesterday marked the fourth day of strike in Sopore township in support of the demand for the removal of a CRPF picket, official sources said.

No one was hurt in the clashes, which started early yesterday at Arampora and adjoining areas in the town, 55 km from here in Baramulla. An indefinite strike was announced on Friday to press for the removal of the CRPF picket, sources said.

The CRPF picket, located outside a bank, came under a grenade attack by militants on Friday, leaving five jawans and a civilian injured. The CRPF personnel allegedly roughed up a large number of shopkeepers and pedestrians in retaliation to the grenade attack and beat them up.

Meanwhile, Handwara town of Kupwara district also observed a shutdown yesterday against the alleged highhandedness of a policeman.

Life comes to a halt in Europe

- Flights late, cancelled
- Power cuts in Bulgaria
- Eurostar suspended for third day

Snow and freezing temperatures caused transport chaos across Europe, with the Eurostar rail service suspended for the third day on Monday and flights grounded at snowbound airports across the continent. Six Eurostar trains carrying more than 2,500 passengers were stuck for up to 16 hours overnight on Friday, five in an undersea tunnel linking Britain and France, due to technical faults caused by the wintery weather.

Europe's airports and airlines also were fighting a losing battle to get passengers away for the Christmas holidays as the snow continued to fall.
